ODD RULING BY THE STEWARDS

SEA HORSE II. DISQUALIFIED, BUT STABLE MATE IS SECOND.

English Jumper Ruled Out of the Money Because of a Lost Lead Pad, but Alamansor Is Not Affected-Keene's

Curiosity Also Barred for Fouling. SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—The stewards of the meeting made an odd ruling to-day, which has caused a world of adverse comment. During the recent Brighton meeting W. H. Sny-Snow, after finishing second in a twoyear-old race, was disqualified for fouling, and inder the rules it was also necessary to rule out the third horse, Deviltree, because Snyder whed a part of the latter. In the steepleowned a part of the latter. In the steeple-chase to-day Mr. Cotton was represented by two starters, the imported jumper Sea Horse II., for whom he paid $16,000 in Eng-land not long ago, and Alamansor. When Sea Horse II. came back to the scales after finishing second under a bungling wide it finishing second under a bungling ride it was found that his jockey, Rogan, had lost Under the rules there was nothing left but to disqualify Sea Horse II., and the same ruling was expected in the case of Alamansor, who had run third. But strange to say the stewards lost sight of the rule covering such cases and placed Alamansor second, One of the stewards explained afterward that disqualifications covering horses run in the same interests in steeplechases made at the discretion of the officials in the stand. Rogan's ride on Sea. Horse II. caused the tongue of scandal to wag. Apparently he did not try to do his best, for the English jumper was simply galloping up to the last fifty yards, where Regan suddenly cut him loose and he ran over his stable companion with a brilliant burst of speed, but not sufficiently speedy to overhaul J. W. Colt's Malden, 11 to 5 favorite, who won the race in a drive by a length and a half, after leading most of the way. At the scales Rogan said that he knew he had lost some lead and for hat reason did not extend his mount, as a lisqualification was certain to follow. The 'otton entry went up in the betting to 5 to 1. E. Widener's Gatebell, a 10 to 1 shot, got disqualification was certain to follow. The Cotton entry went up in the betting to 5 to 1. J. E. Widener's Gatebell, a 10 to 1 shot, got third money under the rearrangement.

James R. Keene's filly Curlosity, 6 to 1, was also disqualified for foulling after running third in the $15,000 Spinsway Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, at five and a half furlongs. Woodford Clay's pair, Running Water and Single Shot, were heavily backed favorites at 7 to 10, but Lyne put up a weak ride on the former, who was beaten a length by Senator McCarren's Edna Jackson, a neglected 8 to 1 shot. O'Neill handled Edna Jackson, who is a full sister to Reliable, in masterly style. He waited with her while William Lakeland's Cousin Eva. 25 to 1, and Curlosity were out in front. Lyne pursued a similar course with Running Water, and at the head of the stretch made his run. O'Neill rushed up with the McCarren filly, too. There was a bumping match straightway, in which Running Water and Single Shot were both interfered with by the Keene filly, losing much ground. Then Edna Jackson assumed command and won in a drive, with Running Water in the place, two and a half lengths in front of Curiosity. Lyne quickly lodged a protest of foul against Curiosity, ridden by Hildebrand, and the latter was ruled out of the money in favor of Cousin Eva. Before the race Last Cherry, who was well played, kicked up a fuss in the paddock, and later, upon reaching the track, she reared and threw W. Knapp, at the same time falling over on her back. She was finally withdrawn, much to the distress of her backers. The time was 108 4-5.

S. S. Brown's Broomstick looked to have the handicap at a mile and a furlong so completely at his mercy that everything was scratched except Sydney Paget's three-year-old Woodsaw. Broomstick went up in the betting to 1 to 3 as Woodsaw was backed down to 5 to 2, but Capt. Brown's horse was much the better, and after letting the Paget colt make the running for a half mile he went to the front and won easily by two lengths in 1.55 3-5.

Capt. Brown's Broadcloth, an even money evorite in the handicap for three-year-olds, x furlongs, was not so fortunate. In fact a was badly beaten, but it was generally elieved afterward that he was anchored by the weight, 125 pounds. He could never get to his stride and finished fifth. H. P. Whitey's Prince Hamburg, 13 to 5, accondictoice, in the other hand, took the track at the start of held the others safe to the end, where won handily by two lengths from E. S. ardner's Funiculaire, who was played for a lling, his odds dropping from 12 to 1 to xes. Six lengths back, M. H. Tichenor's concliman, a 60 to 1 shot, took third money com H. B. Duryes's Dreamer. The race was in in 1:13 3-5.

Tichenor's colors flashed to victory in the xth event, for two-year-olds, five and a alf furlongs, when his Meddler filly, Rustling llk, pounded down to 13 to 5 favorite, won on a sharp drive by three parts of a length cond of the pace until the stretch was reached, ansas Price's Confederate, 4 to 1, was a cood third. The time was 100.

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR SARATOGA. SEA HORSE II. A GOOD JUMPER. Alabama Stakes for Three-Year-Old Fillie the Attraction.

SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—The Alabama Stakes for three-year-old fillies, one mile and five sixteenths, will be the feature to-morrow. Although Tradition must give weight to her company, she will doubtless be played to beat Schulamite, Gold Ten, Sufferance and Kiameshs. In the opening event, a handicap at seven furlongs, Oarsman has top weight but Adriutha, Wotan, Dandelion and Jocund should prove dangerous factors. The steeple-chase is for maidens, over the short course, Caloorahatchee and King Fox II. having apparently excellent chances to get the money. In the third race, for two-year-olds, six furiongs, Hooray, Youth, Flavingy and Rapid Transit may go well. The fifth race is at a mile, with Mad Mullah, Runnels, Rubric, King Pepper and Uncle Urigh figuring the best. Maiden two-year-olds will run in the last race, at five and a half furiongs, with H. P. Whitney's Juggler a possible favorite over the Wilson pair, Adonis and Nostromo, while John Sanford's Mohawk II. may also be heard from. The entries follow:

JOHN M. IN STRAIGHT HEATS. Nervolo Makes Favorite Move in Free-for READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 2.-After two postponements on account of rain, the annual midsummer meeting of the New England Breeders' Association opened to-day with three events on the card, the most important of which was the free-for-all pacing. In the first race, Jennie Scott, the favorite, broke in the first heat at the wire. The same thing happened in the fourth heat, but the mare proved her worth in the final heat by winning by a head from Grattan Belle. Howell, winning by a head from Grattan Belie. Howell, driver of Frank T. was fined $25 for coming down to the wire ahead of the pole horse.

John M., the favorite in the free-for-all, won in straight heats. Pan Michael, who was counted on to give the black gelding a close race, did not start, but Nervolo gave the favorite a fine go. In each heat Nervolo led to the stretch, and there Cox urged his charge to greater exertion and won by small margin. Lady Gail Hamilton, the favorite, won the 2:12 trot, after breaking in the first heat. El Milagro was leading in the second heat, when he went into the air.

At a meeting of the directors of the association this afternoon it was decided to cut down the Grand Circuit meeting to two days.

The $10,000 Massachusets Stake, with other early closing events, will be raced. This is due to the recent action of the State police in ordering the enforcement of the anti-pool selling law at all tracks.

HURT BY POLO MALLET.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R 1., Aug. 2.—The second game of the Point Judith Country Club polo tournament was played to-day at Wildfield Farm, when the New Haven Free-Wildfield Farm, when the New Haven Free-booters defeated the Rumford polo team by a score of 14½ to 3. P. F. Collier played back for Rumford, and his dashing riding and fine drives across field aroused enthusiasm. Paul Rainey played back for the Freebooters, and his individual work was admirable. Just after making a goal in the last peried, and right in the midst of a lively scrimmage. P. F. Collier received an ugly blow from a mallet which struck him on the forehead, cutting a gash over his left eye. Partly stunned by the blow, Mr. Collier dismounted from his pony and a physician was summoned to attend him. The game was stopped, though Mr. Collier protested, saying he was not badly hurt.

Interclub Yacht Races Becoming Popular. The suggestion of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club to have an interclub match for the New York Yacht Club 30-footers is a popular one, and it is probable that eight clubs will be represented in the contest, which will be sailed some time after the cruise of the New sailed some time after the cruise of the New York Yacht Club has ended. While these boats are owned by members of the New York Yacht Club, several of the owners are also members of other clubs, and it is proposed that each club entering the contest shall be represented by one boat to be selected by that club. The Alera, owned by A. H. and J. W. Alker, will represent the Manhaset Bay Yacht Club, and the other clubs that are likely to take part in the race are the New York, Larchmont, Indian Harbor, Seawanhaka Corinthian, Atlantic, American and New Rochelle.

Anties Before the Spinaway Stakes

ENGLISH STEEPLECHASER IM-PRESSEST HE CRITICS FAVORABLY Hildebrand Fined $200 by the Stewards for Rough Riding-Last Cherry's Wild

Burn Up a Pile of Money at Saratoga. SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—The racing to-day was acter. Horses were disqualified, a jockey ost his lead pad, another was fined for rough riding and mischief prevailed generally.

Altogether it was a most unsatisfactory day's sport. The first horse to be disqualified was Sea Horse 11., the English steeplechaser, who was second choice in the Grand National lechase at Liverpool last spring. It was his first start in this country, and as his fame is a racehorse between the flags had pre-reded him, he attracted a "gallery" of critics ankle and the off hind ankle white. He ran well throughout the race, jumped in excel-lent style and, although haddled by the colored rider, Rogan, he convinced the crowd of his worth.

Rogan's indifferent handling of Sea Horse II. caused severe criticism long before the horse had returned to the scales. The rider's apathy in the saddle was soon accounted for, Scales Cornehisen:

"There is not much need to weigh me. I am not in it. I have lost my lead pad," he said. Cernehisen weighed him, however, and found that he was ten pounds short of weight. This weight, in the shape of lumps of lead, had been placed in the pockets of the lead pad in order that the jockey might make up the requisite amount of weight, 150 pounds. After the Spinaway Stakes, in which James R. Keene's Curiosity was disqualified, the stewards fined Jockey Hildebrand $200 for rough riding. Just why Hildebrand is permitted to ride roughshod over his rivals is something the turfmen cannot understand. This boy has been fined and suspended more than any other rider in the country for this kind of work. There is scarcely a day that he does not endanger the lives of the jockeys and the limbs of the horses by his tactics. Frequently in races he changes the results and the limbs of the horses by his tactics. Frequently in races he changes the results of a race by knocking into favorites and causing their defeat.

Before the Spinaway Stakes was decided and while the six fillies who comprised the field were being saddled and bridled in the paddock preparatory to their struggle. Last Cherry, the heavily backed second choice, gave an exhibition of grand and lofty tumbling that put to shame the best actions of the wildest bronce that Buffalo Bill ever exhibited. She plunged and bucked and stood on her hind legs until she had the spectators in a frenzy of excitement.

In order to keep her still long enough to place the saddle on her back T. Welsh, her trainer, had to rig her up, with a Gleason bit. This bit consisted of a rope passed through the mouth and under the jaw and pulled taut. Then it was carried up over the head on one side, down the other and put under the upper lip close to the gums. By carrying it upward again over the head and down through the bit, it formed a twitch which brought the filly to her knees every time the rope was pulled quickly. It was only this that kept her, as a bystander said, from climbing the tree.

When Jookey Knapp was placed on her back she plunged and reared so furiously that she tried to step on the jockey as he was prostrate on the ground. As the boy could not be kept on her back, Tom Welsh, the trainer, asked to have her withdrawn, and the stewards granted the permission. All bets were lost on her, as she was weighed and publicly posted as a starter. Later Welsh announced that he would have nothing further to do with Last Cherry and that he had turned her over to her owner, Clay Woodford. Woodford will give her a month or two to redeem herself, and if she does not improve in disposition he will send her back to Kenucky. The price was not made public, but it was reported to be $15,000. Timber's best race was in the Great Trial Stakes, at Sheepshead Bay, in which he was beaten a head by Security. Timber is in the Futurity and otherwise wel time Follow On and Collegian refused to clear the obstacle. They threw their jockeys over their heads, but the boys were not hurt and scrambled to their saddles again. They rushed their horses at the jump the second time, and the horses again belked, this time going into the open ditch.

Rustling Slik, a bay filly two-year-old, by Murphy-Quiver, was a hot tip for the last race of the afternoon. She managed to win by a half length from Aviston. When the winner was offered for sale at $1,500, Jack McGinnis, the owner of the second horse, bid her up for $5,000 and got her for that sum.

W. Smith and W. McGill, brother and nephew respectively of the late George E. Smith (Pittsburg Phil), were at the track this afternoon. In reply to a query whether he intended to continue on the turt, Smith replied in the negative. He said he was through with racing, that there was no longer any money in it and that it was too hard a game.

"Why," continued Smith, "all the shrewd, sharp men who have made money for years now complain that it is hard to beat. There are more horses in a race nowadays than there were formerly, and there are more owners. Consequently, the chances of success are all against you. Besides this, it costs a small fortune now to start a stable of racehorses, as they are six times more valuable than they were ten Years ago."

In order to make the guaranteed value of the Spinsway Stakes $15,000, which was won to-day by Edna Jackson, the association had to add $9,000.

qualifies Three Yachis.

The race committee of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club has taken the testimony of several yachtsmen and rendered decisions on three protests that were made at the spring regatta. This committee is Henry H. Landon, chairman: Francis G. Stewart, secretary: Howard C. Smith, Clinton The Yankee and Mineola raced in the sprin regatta and fouled at the outer mark. Each owner protested. The two yachts were converging, both sailing free, and the angle of convergence was slight. Both were carrying booms to starboard, the Mineola's being to starboard of the Yankee. The mark was to be left on the starboard hand, and the Mineola was in a position to pass between the Yankee and the mark if an overlap existed. The Mineola claimed room at the mark Yankee denied the claim. The Mineola then attempted to luff across Vankee's stern. and in doing so struck the Yankee's star board quarter with her bobstay. This, the committee says, clearly established the fact of the overlap as defined by the rule.

Mr. Maxwell of the Yankee said the two vessels were 100 feet from the mark when the foul occurred, but the committee thought the Yankee should be disqualified. The report on this protest says: "In the opinion of the committee 100 feet in vessels of this size is within the meaning of the term 'are about to pass a mark on the required side,' there being no evidence to show that the Yankee had any intention of passing the mark on other than the required side. The second protest was in the race of the New York 30 foot class. The yachts Dahinda Nautilus and Cara Mia were approaching the mark practically abreast. Cars Mis leading side. Several lengths astern was the Alera, was given Dahinda at the mark by the other boats. Alers and Minx, coming up from astern attempted to force a passage through the opening and the Nautilus. A collision was prevented by the Nautilus aftering her course to allow the Alera to pass. The Alera was disqualified. The committee says: "The committee wishes to emphasize the fact that it is not necessary for racing yachts to come in collision in order to establish their a yacht coming up from the stern and attempting to force a passage between a competitor and a mark of the course does so at her peril and the burden of proof is on her to show that she had ample room for such passage."

The Minx and Alera fouled in this race, the Minx is disqualified for the foul, and the Alera is disqualified for the foul, and the Alera is disqualified for interfering with the Nautilus.

The third protest was in the raceabout class. There was trouble at the start. The Invader, Jr. started at the windward end of the line and the Pretty Quick at the leeward end. The Invader, Jr. had her spinnaker set, and as the two boats drew together Pretty Quick claimed right of way. The two boats came together about abeam. Both claimed the rights of an overtaking boat. The Invader, Jr., with the wind aft, had to keep clear of the Pretty Quick and the Invader, Jr. is disqualified.

The decisions cover some nice points in yacht racing, and the decisions of the race committee will be carefully studied by yachtsmen. It is not often that committees publish their decisions in this way, and yachtsmen generally are pleased that they have done so. It is thought it would be better for the sport if race committees would make public their reasons for sustaining or denying the protests of the yachtsmen.

Americans Reap the Harvest of Good Batting and Fielding and New Hold Fourth Place Unaccompanied-Bostens Take Two From the Browns.

The New York Americans put away their eventh consecutive victory yesterday and heir fourth straight from the Clevelands. The Clevelands were dragged down from their proud estate at the head of the column as the Chicagos were defeated by the Philadelphias, which occurrence sent the Quaker team up to the leading position in the race Washingtons, who are going some, beat the Detroits, and in consequence the Yorks hold fourth place unshared. The Bostons took two games from the Browns, making a clean sweep for the East. The Browns tumbled to last place, the Washingtons advancing to the seventh notch. It was a nomentous day for changes in the American League. The results:

NEW YORK (A. L.), 4; CLEVELAND, 3. The New York Americans rounded out a full complement of single series victories over the Clevelands yesterday by a little better stick work and a little better fielding. There was some fine fielding by the Clevelands too, but while they excelled the New Yorks in brilliance as to support accorded their pitcher, New York's fielding was a shade pitcher, New York's fielding was a shade more stanch and reliable at moments when such stanchness and reliablity meant much. And there was speed and snap with New York's fielding also—it was a swift, spicy game from overture to curtain. The New Yorks again showed their fighting strain, getting away in the rear and having to overhaul their adversaries. The game then ran along neck and neck for a while, until the New Yorks acquired a scant lead and held on to it through the impenetrability of their defense.

on to it through the impenetration of defense.

The Clevelands took to Chesbro kindly at the start, but once Happy Jack's breadwinning whip became pilable and well oiled he shot them down the lane in improved form and checked the clouting. He used the "spitz" ball to baffle batters now and then and with good results. All of the run producing batting was done by the top of Cleveland's batting order. At no time did the Clevelands have two men on bases simultaneously.

ducing batting was done by the top of Gieveland's batting order. At no time did the Clevelands have two men on bases simultaneously.

After Jackson had singled in the first inning and been forced by Vinson, Flick was responsible for two runs. He put a girdle round the diamond by belting a scorcher to right that was good for four hummocks. In the second the first two Clevelanders up made hits, but one of them, Turner, was out stealing, and the other, Carr, was left, Buelow fouling to McGuire and Elberfeld making a clinker of a catch of Donahue's fly. Elberfeld played fine ball at short. In New York's half of the second Turner robbed Fultz of a hit by a one handed catch in left field that was so dazzling and difficult that it had to be seen to be believed. He followed it up with a beautiful throw to Carr, doubling Williams.

Chase dropped a safe fly into center in the third inning, moved up on McGuire's out and went to third on a passed ball. Conroy brought him in with a slash to right. Keeler sent a short jumper over the pitcher's head, and Turner's hurried throw to first was low. Conroy scored on the misplay, having started for second with the pitch. McGuire doubled in the fifth and plowed puffingly around on hite by Keeler and Elberfeld. Jackson's single and Vinson's triple gave the Clevelands a run in the same seasion.

Fultz jammed a liner to left in the sixth inning, stole second and his fast running brought him to the plate when Chase rendered valuable aid with a line single to left. By reason of a magnificent oatch by Jackson and a long, lightning throw to second. Chase and McGuire were bound and gagged by a double play. Conroy had nothing to do in left field until the ninth inning, but when his call came he was equal to it. He made good catches off Carr and Bemis, and three strikes call came he was equal to it. He made good catches off Carr and Bemis, and three strikes on the third man drove home the spike that silenced the Cleveland gun. The score:

NATIONAL LEAGUE. Champions Move on Pittaburg and Bring

Sadness to the Pirates. The New Yorks moved on Pittsburg yes terday and brought sadness to that begrimed habitation. They beat the Pirates handily and registered their thirteenth straight success. They are forgetting the sensation of encountering a defeat. The only Western team to win was the Cincinnatis, they recovering sufficiently from the long and severe trouncings received at New York's hands to win a thifteen inning same from the Brooklyns. The Philadelphias won in St. Louis, and the Bostons won in Chicago. These be times of tribulation for the Occident. The

NEW YORK (N. L.), 3; PITTSBURG, 1. PITTEBURG, Aug. 2 .- New York put it all over Pitteburg to-day, beating the second place people by 3 to 1. But it was a ball game and when Johnny McGraw's bunch put on their coats they knew there had been a game. their coats they knew there had been a game. Mathewson and Phillippe both pitched fine ball, but Phillippe had momente of ascension which were to say the least costly. His base on balls in the first allowed Donlin to score and his error in the ninth allowed Devlin to get around. Phillippe had another error which did not count. The greatest loss to Pittaburg, however, was not the game. In the fourth inning, Wagner was called out and rightly at first base, but he became incensed and got into possession of the ball and hurled it at Umpire Bausewine. For this he was put out of the game and it is supposed here that he will be out for the series. It was probably the greatest blunder ever made by a ball player in Pittaburg. If Manager Clarke should fine Wagner $500 and lay him off for the balance of the season without pay he would meet the ideas of most of the 10,000 fans who saw the play. The score:

YACHTS AND SAILBOATS. SALE SACRIFICE fine cruising schooner yacht in commission. BROWN, 296 Manhattan av.

NEW INTERNATIONAL RACING. on Both Sides of the Atlantic. new class of 30 foot sloops is being talked of by prominent yachtsmen on both sides of the Atlantic. These boats are to be built under an international rule and raced in their respective countries. Then the winners are to meet in an international contest, one year racing in waters on this side and another year on the other side. Several yachtamen have been approached with a view of getting their ideas and some of these have expressed their willingness to build if the rules suit them.

their ideas and some of these have expressed their willingness to build if the rules suit them.

The rules of the two countries are now very much alike, and with a few slight changes on one side or the other they could be brought together, but the difficulty will be to agree on the changes necessary. There is to be an international conference in the fall to try to frame an international rule, and it is possible that some way out of the trouble will be found.

Those who have discussed the new idea favor the 30 foot class of boats. These are not too expensive, and it is more than likely that several would be built on both sides of the Atlantic. This year the 30 footers have been very popular, and this popularity was brought about through the one design class promoted by the members of the New York Yacht Club. These boats have shown that they are fast, and they are of a good wholesome type and by no means fair weather boats.

BOUTS OUT OF TOWN.

Lenny Hurts His Arm and Loses Hegan Knocks Out Smith. Eddie Lenny of Chester, Pa., who has not done much fighting of late, returned to the ring last Tuesday night at Leiperville, Pa. in a fifteen round bout with Young Maok of Chester. The mill ended in the temth round because Lenny dislocated his left arm. The decision, of course, went to Mack. The contest, despite the accident, was interesting. Lenny opened the fight with a left to Mack's law, which dazed the latter. But Mack came back in the second, Smashing Lenny frequently on the ribs and causing, the latter to hug. The seventh was a hot round. The boys mixed it up often, exchanging face and body blows.

Lenny scored a number of telling blows in the ninth. The injury to his arm happened in the third round, but Lenny continued to fight until the tenth. In this round the arm became useless, and when Lenny offered no defense the referee stepped in and stopped hostilities.

Patsy Hogan of New Orleans defeated Billy Smith of Boston in a hot ten round bout at Peoria last Tuesday night. Hogan won by A knockout in the fifth round. In the fifth Hogan landed a hard uppercut and put Smith away. Smith was badly punished about the body and face.
